We are reaching out to OSI and discussing whether it prudent to pull the DO moorings .

The track on Monday has it in the Keys at 2 AM EDT; we need to see how th track develops over the next 48 hours and then make some decisions.

With the potential of Tropical Storm Issac tracking up the East Cost next week, do you want to discuss with HQI the possibility of going on Mon and Tues rather than Wed and Thur? The Mon and Tues high tides are comparable to mid-month springs that we did use because of weekend holding tome issues.

For the Bathymetry survey - the week of the Aug 27 was the soonest we could go
